George Ansel Davis

Special Despatch to Sunday Telegram

Freeport, Feb. 9.—In the death of George Ansel Davis, which occurred at his home on East Street, Thursday, this town lost one of its oldest and best known citizens.

Mr. Davis was born in Freeport, June 25, 1850. For more than half a century he was prominent in the business and civic life of the town. He served the town as representative to the Legislature in 1878.

When a young man, Mr. Davis engaged in the manufacture of shoes with his brothers under the name of W. E. Davis Shoe Co. He continued in that business until a few years ago. He was also a member of the A. H. Berry Shoe Corporation, of Portland, serving as treasurer. In 1931 he retired from active business.

Because of his kindly nature, his unfailing optimism and genial disposition he leaves a large circle of friends who will regret his passing. He was a member of the Freeport Baptist Church, Freeport Lodge, F. and A. M., Harraseeket Lodge, K. of P., and Casco Chapter, O. E. S.

Mr. Davis is survived by his wife, a son, George; two daughters, Eva and Ruth; and two granddaughters, Eleanor and Janet. He leaves three brothers, Henry E. Davis, B. Frank Davis and Charles S. Davis, all of Freeport.

Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from his home, the Rev. E. A. Hazelton, pastor of the Baptist Church, officiating. Burial will be in Burr Cemetery.

George 'Frank' Davis

garage operator, lifelong outdoorsman

GRAY — George "Frank" Davis, 54, a longtime garage owner at Dry Mills here and an experienced outdoorsman, died Tuesday at his home on Wanda Lane after a long battle with cancer.

Mr. Davis owned and operated Frank's Garage on Route 26 in Dry Mills for many years. Before that he ran Frank's Sunoco, the former service station at the corner of Routes 100 and 26 in the center of town.

Many townspeople had grown to trust Mr. Davis as a skilled and fair mechanic.

"He was a fantastic mechanic," said Arthur Liberty, a lifelong friend. "He guaranteed everything he did, at a good price. I've lived in Bangor for 14 years, but I still took my vehicle to Gray to have him work on it."

Mr. Davis retired in March 1994 because of failing health.

A lifelong hunter and fisherman, Mr. Davis especially enjoyed traveling to St. Pamphile, Quebec, near the Maine border, where he and a group of friends known as the Red Camp Association had a logging camp.

"We've hunted together since we were 16," said Arthur Liberty, a lifelong friend and fellow member of the Red Camp Association. "He was a hell of an outdoorsman, and one of the biggest assets at the camp."

"Frank was a remarkable man," said Michael Kennedy, another friend. "He always had a good outlook. He enjoyed the camp. Most of us don't hunt that much anymore, but we just liked going there. Last year he went up there 10 or 11 times."

He made it up to St. Pamphile for a final trip in July, along with his wife, Meredith. "That meant the world to him," said his daughter.

Mr. Davis was close to his family, and he enjoyed returning from camp and sharing stories of his trip. "The big fish always got away," said his daughter.

A registered Maine Guide, he guided canoe trips on the St. John and Allagash rivers and was a guide during the Maine moose hunt for several years.

Mr. Davis was an assistant deputy game warden for the Department of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife, helping out in Freeport and Pownal during peak hunting and fishing periods.

"As long as he was in the woods he was happy," said his son, Jeffrey Davis. "He said if he had to do it over again, he would have been a warden."

Born in Lewiston, a son of George F. and Charlotte Pike Davis, he graduated from the former Pennell Institute here in 1959.

PASSAGES

Each day the newspaper selects one obituary and seeks to learn more about the life of a person who has lived and worked in Maine. We look for a person who has made a mark on the community or the person's family and circle of friends in small but lasting ways.

George Davis

He was a lance corporal in the Marines from 1959 to 1961, and worked at American Hoist & Derrick in Portland prior to opening his repair garage.

He was a member of the Professional Maine Guide Association, National Rifle Association, Sportsman's Alliance of Maine, Cumberland Lodge of Masons, the Commandery and Kora Temple Shrine.

Surviving are his wife of 35 years, Meredith Kenney Davis of Gray, two daughters, Wendy Copp and Vicki Copp of Cumberland; a son, Jeffrey of Gray, three sisters, Alice Tessier of Delaware, Charlotte Handy and Margaret Phinney, both of Falmouth; three brothers, Orville of West Paris, Harold of Westbrook and Bradford of South Portland; four grandsons and three granddaughters.

A funeral will be held 11 a.m. Friday at Gray First Congregational Church. Arrangements are by the Wilson Funeral Home.
