WELLS — Joseph R. Houston, 88, the pioneer of market gardening in Maine, died at the York hospital Saturday.

Mr. Houston was born in Gardiner, the son of Charles C. and Grace Wingate Houston.

He moved to Wells with his family in 1913, and in 1914 opened the first roadside vegetable stand in Maine. In 1928 he established Pine Tree Gardens on Route 1 and operated the market for 41 years.

"If farmers would spend a little more time trying to retail more of what they grow, instead of depending so much on wholesaling, they'd be better off," he told the Maine Sunday Telegram in a 1950 feature story about him and his success.

A 1917 graduate of Wells High School, Mr. Houston was a member of Ocean Lodge No. 142 and Ogunquit Baptist Church.

He is survived by his wife of 60 years, Doris Bryant Houston of Wells; a son, John C. Houston of East Sandwich, Mass.; a daughter, Joyce Holmes of Falmouth, Mass.; a brother, Leo C. Houston of Mashpee, Mass.; five grandchildren and one great-grandson.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. at Bibber Memorial Chapel on lower Bragdon Road, Wells. The Rev. Russell Wallace will officiate. Interment will be in Arundel Cemetery, Kennebunkport.

FREEPORT, Feb. 1 — Freeport's beloved Dr. Harvey Howard died at his home here today after a brief illness. He would have been 84 tomorrow.

With the late Dr. Arthur Gould, he was co-founder of the town's first and only hospital, a 10-bed institution which they ran from 1926 to 1941. Dr. Howard then ran the hospital himself for five more years.

Dr. Howard was also the area's medical examiner for many years.

He was born in Woodstock, N.B., Feb. 2, 1871, the son of the Rev. George and Mary Eliza Clark Howard. He received his education through college in Centerville, N.B. He was graduated from the Rush Memorial Medical School of Chicago University in 1894.

He came to Freeport to practice 59 years ago and has been here ever since except for 15 years he spent in the Middle West. He returned, he said, because he "missed the tides."

While in Oklahoma City, he served on the examining board for World War I. From there he moved to Albion, Neb. where he was medical examiner for 10 years.

Dr. Howard liked to recall the horse and buggy days of medicine. He loved horses and brought his first one with him from Centerville by boxcar. He always felt grateful to the kindly tramp who fed and watered the animal during the trip.

After the horse and buggy went out, Dr. Howard became an advocate of the Model T Ford, owning 14 of them before they, too, went out of style.

Dr. Howard was twice honored in recent years. In 1952, he was presented a 50-year medal by the Freeport Masonic Lodge of which he was a member. And last June, he was awarded a 60-year service pin by the Cumberland County Medical Society.

He was a member of the Freeport Chamber of Commerce and active in civic affairs.
