Remarks

Herbert G. Starr, 92, former real estate dealer in New York City and Portland, and well known as a stamp collector, died Tuesday evening in the home of his daughter, Mrs. John A. (Marian S.) Webber, 19 Exeter Street, after several months of failing health.

Born in Portland, July 17, 1855, Mr. Starr received his schooling in this city. As a young man he learned the drug business, and for a few years conducted a drug store at Cumberland Mills, Westbrook. This was after a brief period in which he followed the sea at the age of 20. He was a member of the crew of the barkentine Harriett S. Jackson, bound from New York for Wiscasset, which piled up on hidden Spring Point Ledge on a wild night in 1876. This was his second and last ill-fated voyage, his first being a little time before, when the new Bath-built ship Oriental, bound for San Francisco by way of the Horn, limped back into New York Harbor after battling heavy seas for nearly a month.

From the drug business in which he was engaged from 1884 to 1901, he turned to selling real estate, a line in which he was engaged the rest of his active life and an interest which he continued even in his last years. After several years in the business in New York City he returned to Portland, where he had since resided.

He was specially interested in collecting stamps, and as one of the members of the Portland Stamp Club possessed a rare collection.

He was one of the oldest members of Warren Phillips Lodge, No. 186, AF&AM, Presumpscot Valley Lodge, No. 4, K. of P., and Pequawket Tribe, No. 17, of Red Men. Several years ago he received the 50-year Masonic membership medal. He was a communicant of Trinity Episcopal Church of this city.

Mr. Starr was much interested in travel, and while treasurer of the Consolidated Stone & Gravel Company here, one of his former interests, he and three other Portland business men made a trip around the world, two decades ago.

Surviving him besides his daughter are a grandson, John Starr Webber, World War II Naval Reserve veteran; a great-grandson, John Webber, both of Springfield, Mass.; and several cousins, including Mrs. Walter B. Perkins, Waban, Mass., and Francis W. Dana, Portland.
